JESSE M. FURMAN, United States District Judge:

Plaintiffs' counsel filed a letter under seal seeking leave for the deposition of Mr. Rybolovlev to take place in the second half of January 2022. See ECF No. 366. That request is hereby GRANTED.

That said, in light of the presumption in favor of public access to judicial documents, there is no basis to keep counsel's letter in its entirety under seal. Accordingly, attached to this Order is a redacted version of the letter. Counsel is reminded that Court approval is required to file any document under seal and that requests to file documents under seal or in redacted form must be made in accordance with the Court's Individual Rules and Practices. Moreover, if narrowly tailored redactions would protect whatever interests may justify sealing, the moving party should propose redactions and not seek to seal the document in its entirety.

SO ORDERED.

Re: Accent Delight Int'l Ltd. et al. v. Sotheby's et al., No. 18 Civ. 9011

Dear Judge Furman:

We write to report on the current status of Dmitri Rybolovlev’s ability to be deposed. See ECF No. 365. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED], we propose that Mr. Rybololev’s deposition be scheduled for the second half of January 2022. Inasmuch as the Court has already extended the discovery deadline until January 31, 2002 to accommodate the depositions of Bouvier and Peretti (ECF No. 363), scheduling Mr. Rybololev’s deposition as we propose will not delay other deadlines in this case or prejudice Defendants.

We have filed this letter, containing [REDACTED], on ECF under seal, marked Attorneys’ Eyes Only under the Protective Order in this case.

Respectfully,
/s
Daniel J. Kornstein

cc. Counsel for Defendants (by ECF marked Attorneys’ Eyes Only)
